crime-free life. It was all a lie. In 2010 Minkow got in trouble for a number of things to include lying under oath, destroying or concealing evidence, and deliberately covering up his misconduct. In 2011 he pled guilty to insider trading. In regards to his tenure as a pastor, in 2014 Minkow pleaded guilty to one count each of conspiracy to commit bank fraud, wire fraud, mail fraud and to defraud the federal government. He admitted to embezzling over $3 million in donations to Community Bible Church from 2001 to 2011. He opened unauthorized bank accounts purportedly on the church's behalf, forged signatures on church checks, diverted money from legitimate church accounts for his personal use, and charged unauthorized personal expenses on church credit cards. This guy is a fraud. He has a long history of lying, getting caught, and going to jail so my recommendation is that you do not read this book. 3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Back in the Pokie By Daniel Dashnaw Barry Minkow, prolific liar an sociopath just cut a deal to do 5 years in prison fo securities fraud. Don't waste your time on this turd. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Good Read By David Nette Truly enjoyed this read. A message for all of us.... TO NEVER GIVE UP! From the depths of despair, to the heights of life purpose, this book lays it all on the line. Eat the meat and throw away the bones ....but read it! Dave

Everyone's had a bad day, some of us have had a lot worse. But as Barry Minkow shows in this inspirational and empowering book, you can come back from anything. He started from jail-and millions in debt. You might be starting from a wrecked marriage. Or a business gone belly up. Whatever your failure, you can overcome and get beyond it starting today. In Down, But Not Out, Barry explains the 10 all-important steps you need to succeed in the process. You may not end up helping the FBI bust investment fraud like Barry does today, but you can turn your life around and get back on the road to success. Barry shows you how.

About the Author Barry Minkow, cofounder of the Fraud Discovery Institute, earned a masters of divinity degree from Liberty University and today divides his time between busting investment scams and serving as the senior pastor of Community Bible Church in San Diego, California, where he lives with his wife Lisa and twin sons Robert and Dylan.
