From Asian Development Bank : Pacific Private Sector Development Initiative (Pacific Private Sector Development Initiative Annual Progress Report) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Pacific Private Sector Development Initiative (Pacific Private Sector Development Initiative Annual Progress Report):

This publication describes further progress of ongoing and recently undertaken initiatives for the Pacific Private Sector

Development Initiative (PSDI). It highlights the issues and many of the encouraging outcomes resulting from earlier efforts. It also explores issues expected to emerge in the future, and how they will be dealt with. PSDI is a regional technical assistance facility cofinanced by the Australian Agency for International Development. It supports and encourages inclusive, private sector-led, sustainable economic growth among Pacific developing member countries of the Asian Development Bank. PSDI focuses on improving access to financial services, business law reform, and state-owned enterprise reform and public-private partnerships in the region.
