From Asian Development Bank : Payments for Ecological Services and Eco-Compensation before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Payments for Ecological Services and Eco-Compensation:

Policy makers in the Peoplesqu;o;s Republic of China have been experimenting with new approaches to environmental management, resulting in a wide array of policy and program innovations under the broad heading of eco-compensation. Many of these are market-based instruments, particularly payments for ecological services—currently an emerging policy debate regarding the extent to which beneficiaries should pay, and the providers should be compensated—for the provision of natural resources and environmental services to promote sustainable, balanced growth. These proceedings are a collection of papers presented at the International Conference on Payments for Ecological Services convened in Ningxia Hui Autonomous Region in September 2009 to support eco-compensation programs in the country.
